

Are you interested in an e-bike lending program in Markham?

Ryerson University is conducting an e-bike study in partnership with Markham Cycles and two other non-profit organizations.

This study will be used to understand the mobility and perception changes around riding an e-bike in suburban communities before and after access to the electric bike.

For more info and to sign up, visit our website at:
markhamcycles.ca

